

CODE OF CONDUCT

COMPUTER 2000

CODE OF CONDUCT

This Code of Conduct describes essential legal and ethical working standards that COMPUTER 2000 Bulgaria expects to be applied by its own employees, as well as all contractual partners - resellers and vendors.

- ✓ Compliance with legal working standards and social benefits - COMPUTER 2000 Bulgaria takes utmost care to employees' health and wellbeing.
- ✓ Compliance with all legal requirements for environmental protection.
- ✓ Compliance with all legal safety regulations.
- ✓ Compliance with all applicable laws and work regulations.
- ✓ No form of child or forced labour.
- ✓ Non-discrimination on gender, religion, sexual orientation, skin colour, age, ethnic and social origin.
- ✓ No psychological, physical or verbal pressure, harassment, abuse or inappropriate behaviour. Every person, employee or customer, is treated with dignity and respect.
- ✓ No company employee may import/ re-route/re-export any product, technology, or software unless appropriate authorization has been obtained by the respective vendor.
- ✓ The company and its employees should identify themselves by name and by the entity they work for or represent; declare the interests, objectives or aims promoted and, where applicable, specify the clients whom they represent.